Customer Reviews

I’d say this book is a little exciting. The Alden Children have started a birthday party planing business. They decided they like to plan party’s and bake cakes so it would be fun.Their first party is at their friend Alex’s home. The Aldens throw him a dinosaur them party. But with all the children laughing in the basement, nobody hears a burglar sneak in. The party is a great success, and no one discovers the burglar until Mrs. Pierce goes into the safe to get money to pay the Aldens. "We’ve been robbed!" Is screamed through the house.Next, the Aldens throw a party for Hallie

Grayson, who just broke her ankle. Hallie was going to have a skating party, but obviously she can't now. They still want to have a party at the skating rink though, because of the empty room. Mr. Grayson has lots of valuable art work in his home and does not want bunches of kids running around. After the party, another success, the Graysons are robbed! The Aldens start to wonder if the robberies have anything to do with their party planning business.You will find many suspicious characters lurking in the pages of this mystery. But I will tell you, there is only one robber.I would like to thank for quick shipment and letting me open the book and enjoy every wonderful page it provides me.I recommend this book to readers who enjoy the boxcar children and a good mystery. No age level is appropriate. All ages can enjoy Henry, Jessie, Violet, and Benny.Kindle books:I enjoy kindle books because they allow you to buy a free sample to see if you enjoy the book whereas libraries, bookstores, etc. You must buy the whole book even if you dislike it.
